Let's take a look at the main chamber racks and how they function.

The lower main chamber charcoal rack is adjustable. Raise or lower the rack using the easy accessible stainless steel ladder style handles

The main cooking rack is made of two racks framed in angle for support. This allows for easy access to the coals below.

The top racks automatically moves back as you open the lid. The top rack can also be pinned up out of the way or fully removed when smoking larger items like whole turkey.

We kept ease of clean up in mind when designing the Grill Chef smoker.

The main chamber has two front open doors both equipped with removable ash pans. The firebox has a top open lid with adjustable meat rack, a fire rack, and a slide out ashpan for clean up.
